

Montana Fly Fishing Lodge

Backcountry Angler's Montana fly fishing lodge is located in the heart of Southwestern Montana's world famous fly fishing country. The accommodations will comfortably sleep 8-10 fishermen and is ideal for friends, clubs, families or a corporate retreat. Our brand new Montana fly fishing lodge is located next to the Beaverhead

River. and near the Big Hole, Madison, Ruby and private water. The property is situated in a quiet setting surrounded on three sides by water with a steep cliff as a backdrop. There are four deluxe bedrooms in the lodge each with two queen beds, a sitting area, satellite TV, air conditioning, heating, kitchens, and private baths. Each unit features a private porch entrance to the accommodations. One bedroom has a Jacuzzi tub for your enjoyment. Each of our guests can enjoy time alone in their rooms - a perfect place to relax peacefully in quiet solitude, reading a book or just viewing the scenery. The great room serves as a gathering place for relaxation, and storytelling. The hand-hewed Douglas fir log structure, spacious great room, wood burning stove and western fly fishing motif clearly states you are in the heart of fly fishing in the Rockies. Wildlife is abundant on the property as well as in the surrounding area.

Dillon Montana Lodging

Dillon Montana lodging providing a bed and breakfast in a cabin setting convenient to town and fly fishing waters.

Backcountry Angler can provide Dillon Montana bed and breakfast lodging for non-guided guests and travelers at our Fly Shop Inn with advance notice. The cabin can house up to 3 individuals in each private suite. Each suite has 2 bedrooms/sitting rooms, kitchen, private bath, air conditioning, gas fireplace, gas range, refrigerator, microwave, 3 queen beds, 1 twin bed, satellite TV, WIFI, ceiling fans, wooden porch with sitting area, and native Douglas Fir log work.

Dillon is the seat for Beaverhead County which is the largest county in land mass in Montana. The population is approximately 2 people per square mile. Located within walking distance to amenities it is also close to famous fly fishing waters. The Beaverhead river, Big Hole river, Madison river, Ruby river, Poindexter Slough spring creek, Jefferson river, mountain streams and lakes are all within striking distance of the Dillon Montana lodging. There are several museums within blocks of the cabin which give you a taste of our western heritage. Several ghost towns are within driving distance including the original Territorial Capital of Bannack which has been preserved in its original state. The town has a golf course and a newly built state of the art YMCA with a Olympic pool. The Lewis and Clark expedition passed thru the area twice. There are several Lewis and Clark sites nearby. Beaverhead country is known for its excellent waterfowl hunting and big game hunting especially duck hunting. Dillon is in a mile high desert valley with snow capped mountains surrounding the town. The fertile Beaverhead River provides water for not only Wild Trout and Fly Fishing enthusiasts but also for town folk, ranchers and farmers. The Pioneer Mountains are located to the west of Dillon. They are split in half, the east pioneers and the west pioneers by the Grasshopper creek to the south and the Wise River to the north. The spectacular Pioneer scenic byway runs up through the middle of the mountains.

For more information please visit
<http://www.backcountryangler.com>